Weekly Legislative Report #7

Week Ending March 1, 2019

FY 20 Budget Clears the House

The Georgia House completed work on the FY 20 Budget last week, sending the bill over to the Senate for its input. One of the big changes to the Governor's recommendation included a reduction in the $3,000 salary boost promised to teachers, down to about $2,775. The House lowered the appropriation in order to include about 9,800 school psychologists, counselors, media specialists, social workers, speech and language pathologists, and instructional technologists in the pay raise.

The $27.5 billion budget is an increase of 2.26% over the amended FY 19 spending document. When federal funds are included, total spending reaches $53 billion. The largest part of state growth, nearly 80%, is for educational purposes. Another $119 million would fund the 2% merit-based salary increase for state employees to stem a high rate of turnover. The House also looked out for the aging community by adding five additional adult protection service caseworkers to the Governor's 12. The House upped the Governor's $950,000 for home delivered meals by another $460,000 (total of $1.4 million), and raised the personal needs allowance for those on Medicaid by $2.50 to a total of $67.50 monthly. The budget contains $1.89 million for non-Medicaid Home and Community Based Services, plus $338,000 to sustain the Aging and Disability Resource Connection (ADRC).

Destination Casino Bill Passes Committee

Immediately upon adjournment of Friday's House session, the Economic Development and Tourism Committee held a very short meeting and passed out Chairman Ron Stephens' Constitutional Amendment Resolution on Casino Gaming. HR 327 would allow the voters of Georgia to decide whether they want to allow a limited number of destination resorts that would permit casino gambling. The resolution passed on a voice vote, but no dissenters were heard.

In his brief presentation, Stephens quoted a new poll that gave staggering approval to putting the issue on a statewide ballot. The following breakdown was recorded to the question, “Do you support allowing Georgia voters to decide if they want to allow casino gambling?”

78% of Republicans said yes

89% of Democrats said yes

96% of Independents said yes

According to a report on AJC.com, it’s believed that this is the furthest a gambling bill has moved through the legislature since the creation of the Georgia Lottery 27 years ago. The measure is expected on the House floor by crossover day.

CON Bills Stall or Morph, but Stay in Play

We are tracking six bills related to Certificate of Need for healthcare facilities, but there are three bills that capture most of the attention under the gold dome. In the Senate, SB 74 by Matt Brass (R-Newnan) is the bill most favored by anti-CON forces. SB 151 by Dean Burke (R-Bainbridge) is the bill most favored by hospitals. Both make changes to CON. However, at a hearing on Thursday, Regulated Industries Chairman Bill Cowser (R-Athens) told the authors and packed hearing room that it was apparent neither bill could win a majority of committee votes. Thus, he said, unless something new emerges by Monday, we’ll wait and see what the House sends over.

Meantime, the House Special Committee on Access to Quality Healthcare (a prime example of why acronyms prove useful, except HSCAQH can’t be pronounced either) took up a substitute to HB 198. The primary change in the substitute is that CON is not done away with under the bill, although significant changes are made. The measure, formerly 83 pages long, has been cut down to 31 pages. That said, there are still too many features to cover here. One thing NOT in this version is a change to the statewide limit on tax credits for contributions to rural hospitals. The current $60 million limit was changed to $100 million in the original bill. That language is now gone. HB 198 is expected to be debated on the House floor next week. If you would be entertained by the discussion at the HSCAQH hearing, click here for the video. The presentation begins at the 57:20 mark as other bills are discussed first.

Medicaid Waiver Bill Clears the Senate

A bill giving the Governor authority to seek Medicaid waivers from the federal government passed the Georgia Senate on Tuesday. SB 106 was passed on a 32-20 party-line vote, with Democrats opposing the limits placed on the program and the latitude given to the Governor to negotiate with the federal Centers for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS). Gov. Brian Kemp has stated that he intends to use the waiver authority to create a reinsurance program that would encourage private insurance companies to participate in the exchange market by helping them afford the high cost of patients with pre-existing conditions. Under the legislation, the waivers can also allow Medicaid coverage up to 100% of the federal poverty level, not the 138% authorized by the Affordable Care Act. Currently, the federal government will pay for 90% of increases to the 138% level, but only about two-thirds of costs at the 100% level. The House, whose leadership has expressed concern about the potential long-term costs of expanding the current program, referred the bill to the HSCAQH, the committee that has also been dealing with the CON issue.

Ballot Machines or Pencil and Paper?

Given reports of Russian meddling in the last U.S. election, not to mention accusations of voter irregularities here in Georgia, ballot security has been a hot topic at the Capitol. On Tuesday, the Republican-dominated House voted 101-72 in favor of a new voting system that uses touch-screen machines to digitally mark paper ballots that are then read by a scanner. Democrats had supported what they said was a more secure method – hand-marked paper ballots that could then be scanned. One Republican, Scot Turner (Holly Springs), voted against his party noting machines were the much more expensive ($150 million, give or take) plan. Two Democrats voted with the majority -- Rep. Carl Gilliard (Garden City) and Valencia Stovall (Forest Park). Stovall explained that she supports provisions in the bill that curtail precinct closures, voter registration cancellations and absentee ballot rejections, and she worried that millennials would be deterred from voting by hand-marked paper ballots. HB 316 was sent to the Senate and referred to the Ethics Committee, which debated it for several hours on Thursday. No vote was taken, but it was interesting that the committee debated a House bill so close to crossover day.

Final Gavel for “Mr. Chairman” Channell

Former State Representative Mickey Channell, 76, of Greensboro “adjourned sine die” last week, leaving a legacy of service to Georgia for which many are undoubtedly grateful, even if unaware. Channell served in the state legislature for 22 years. He is credited with being the father of the PeachCare for Kids program that has provided affordable healthcare services to children for decades. He was also responsible for moving the Division of Public Health out from under an umbrella agency to a stand-alone department, stripping away bureaucracy to enable significant advances in the state’s approach to population health. He was also behind the law that now requires insurance companies to cover colonoscopies. Channell was serving as chairman of the powerful House Ways & Means (Tax Writing) Committee when health issues forced him to resign from the legislature in 2015.

A businessman who developed, then sold, a chain of small town convenience stores, Channell also loved to play golf and was a huge UGA fan. On home-game Saturdays he enjoyed loading up his bulldog-red, bus-like vehicle with friends and refreshments for the quick trip to Athens and the big game. Mickey was our great friend, both professionally and personally. We extend our deepest sympathy to his family, along with our sincere appreciation for his leadership and commitment to public service. Please find his complete obituary here.

Next Week

The Legislature will meet every day but Wednesday next week. Thursday is crossover day, the time by which bills must pass out of their house of origin, or like the Braves, “wait until next year.”
